R. O. STEPHENS HAS RESIGNED

Manager of Local Office Western Union Telegraph Company Will Accept Another Position.

After two years service as manager of the local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Manager R. O. Stephens has tendered his resignation and will accept another position. Mr. Stephens' successor has not yet been named.

Mr. Stephens, as he is best known to his friends, has worked in Dothan as a telegraph operator for a number of years and about two years ago was promoted to the position of manager. His friends will wish him success wherever he goes.

PLANS TO BUY FINE STALLION

Secretary Fred H. Thomas of the Southeast Alabama Fair Association has been requested to obtain information relative to the purchasing of a fine stallion which will be kept at the fair grounds this fall. A movement is under way to form a stock company to pay for the animal, and one of the best obtainable will be bought. This will be of much interest to those who contemplate breeding fine horses in this section of the state.

Italians Beginning To Be Irrated At British And French

Rome, April 28.—King Victor Emmanuel today cancelled all engagements to devote his time solely to the international situation. He has withdrawn his acceptance of an invitation to attend the carnival celebration at Quarto on May 1 and will remain in Rome.

Owing to the uncertain political situation, said a note issued today, the king has appointed the Duke of Genoa to represent him at the Quarto celebration.

This is regarded as significant here as the Italian interventionists have planned to make the celebration an occasion for a great patriotic demonstration against Italy's participation in the war on the side of the Allies.

Sarcastic comment in the news papers of France and England on Italy's failure to enter the war is having an irritating effect on Italian public opinion, notwithstanding the activities of the interventionists. The camp of the non-interventionists is gaining in recruits daily as a result.

Supporters of the neutrality policy, headed by members of a former cabinet in which Signor Giolitti was premier, are doing everything possible to foster this situation. The non-interventionist press publishes daily articles pointing out that the colonial policies of France and England have been aimed to embarrass Italy.

SUMMARY OF WAR STATUS

Unofficial announcement is made at Berlin that the French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta of 12,400 tons has been torpedoed by an Austrian submarine. The Berlin news agency which made this announcement says part of the crew of between 700 and 800 was saved. No additional details are given but it is probable that an attack of this kind occurred in the Adriatic.

A new general attack on a large scale has been inaugurated in Russian Poland, marking the resumption of active hostilities after a long lull. The official Berlin statement today says the Germans conquered Russian positions in the vicinity of Suwalki near the East Prussian frontier over an front of twelve miles.

There is again a sharp dispute between German and French accounts of what is happening in Flanders. The official Berlin report says British efforts to recapture the lost ground failed. French articles assert that further progress was made in the Ypres district. It is said heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans and that more than 600 bodies were then dead were counted at one point.

The French announcement yesterday that Hartmann-Wellschlagbaen had captured the mountain heights which the Germans recently captured in Berlin. It is said this position still is held by the Germans.

On the heights of the Meuse, the stubborn battle continues. The Paris statement says the French advanced two-thirds of a mile. The Germans announce the capture of French positions north of La Mesme and the defeat of French attacks at other points.

A British correspondent in Northern France says the German effort to turn the left British flank near Ypres has failed definitely, although the battle continues with violence. French military authorities are cautious of accepting the theory that the German plan is to break through to the English Channel, but they regard it as patent that such a concentration of troops on a limited battlefield means that the present drive is preparatory to some more important undertaking.

An official Belgian statement indicates that the German attack is lessening in force. It is said the artillery fire against the Belgian front has largely died away.

Russian and Austrian official statements indicate that fighting in the Carpathians is becoming more intense. Latest news claims to have defeated the Austrians, but it is apparent that the activity is spread along greater sections of the Carpathian line. Military observers at Petrograd say no decisive operations have been carried out in the expected direction.

The Dardanelles situation remains obscure, although it is apparent the French and British have not succeeded in driving the Turkish forces from the peninsula.

Paris war office has announced the capture of Kankalich on the Asiatic side. The Turkish government, although reporting the repulse of the landing forces in some cases, does not claim that in every instance the Turks have been able to drive them back.

Italy still is debating whether she shall intervene in the war. The Italian Ambassador in France one of these summer months to consult with the government has had a long conference with the king concerning international affairs.

SENATE PASSES DAVIS REGULATION BILL

Tallahassee, Fla., April 28.—Temperance advocates today won a victory when the Davis regulation bill passed the state senate, placing stringent rules on all places selling intoxicating liquors and making the hours 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. for doing business. Its opponents are prohibited in hotels and clubs and are only to be sold under regulations similar to the South Carolina dispensary law. The bill prohibits the sale of draft beer or mixed liquors in drinks at bars.

WAYCROSS PRIES OFF LID AT HOME WITH LOTHAN

Waycross, Ga., April 28.—May 1, Scott L. Benton today issued a proclamation declaring tomorrow a half holiday in Waycross on account of the first home game of the 1915 season of the Georgian State League. Waycross ball players return home tomorrow in Brunswick where they up and the season with three games and will meet Dothan here for three games before hitting the road again.

Fans here are anxious to win the attendance trophy offered by the Coca-Cola Company and hope to have around 500 people at the game.

There is more enthusiasm in Waycross over baseball than there has been since the Georgian State League was organized and indications are the local association will enjoy a splendid year.

Owing to the fact that no real players from this immediate vicinity are on the Waycross team this year it is believed the out of town attendance here will be greater than ever before.

The first ball will be pitched by Mayor Benton, vice President Fred Brewer of the local association and during the evening, Pre-

CLAIM RECEIPT WAS CHANGED

In the case of Will Pennington versus C. M. Holman, a trial in the Circuit Court, the litigation being about a receipt made the question of a receipt was an interesting feature of the hearing. Mr. Pennington claimed that a receipt had been changed from $43 to $413. This discussion precipitated some lively interest in the outcome.

Finally every place of business in the city will close for the ball game so that all clerks and players may attend. The only live place in the city tomorrow will be the league baseball park here.

TENNESSEE MOB LYNCHES NEGRO

Somerville, Tenn., April 28.—Tom Brooks, a negro, alleged slayer of R. Lee Day and Phoebe Hawkin, was taken from the custody of deputy sheriffs who were bringing him from Memphis early today for preliminary trial and held in the jail of a railroad bridge. The mob and the party about seven miles out side of town and the lynching according to the officers was organized by little document.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by hanging at the hands of unknown parties. Brooks was charged with killing the two men and wounding a deputy sheriff when they went to his cabin to arrest him a week ago to serve a warrant on him.

Later in the day Baker and Arthur, Waycross, Ga., and other persons were taken to the jail after thirteen men.

200,000 FRENCH ARE RUSHED INTO FLANDERS FIGHT

Berlin, April 28.—The Overseas News agency today gave out a dispatch from Amsterdam during the night, saying that the British gave notice that the British ports had been closed to foreign vessels.

Paris, April 28.—An unofficial announcement in the Petit Parisien today states that the British have captured 200,000 French in West Flanders from the Germans but this is not confirmed by the war office. (St. Louis is about three miles northeast of Ypres.)

Paris, April 28.—Two hundred thousand French troops are being rushed into West Flanders and Northern France to reinforce the allies line. Some of these reinforcements are being massed by Ypres and Dixmude, where the full force of the latest German drive was felt while the others are strengthening the British lines on the Armentieres front. All train service north of Paris has been given over to the movement of troops. Even hospital trains operating between the front and the base hospital are being sidetracked to give the troops priority of way.

Although it is officially claimed by the French war office that the German rush toward Calais has been halted it is evident that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British troops, and General Joffre, the French commander in chief, expect the Germans to attempt another offensive movement.

DEMOCRAT LOVE FEAST IS ON IN INDIANA

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28.—Delegations of prominent democrats from all sections of Indiana arrived in Indianapolis today to attend a monster "love feast" and hear the first gun of the 1916 campaign fired by William C. Redfield, secretary of the department of commerce at Tumbler hall tonight.

The speech of Mr. Redfield is expected to be of national significance and is said to have been submitted to President Wilson for approval as a defense of the so-called Wilson policies which have been the subject of severe criticism by other parties.

Secretary Redfield was scheduled to arrive this afternoon and a committee headed by Governor Holston planned to escort him to the Indiana club where a reception will be held during the afternoon.

ITALY ORDERS RESERVISTS TO RETURN

Buenos Aires, April 28.—Italian ministers to Argentine and Paraguay have been instructed to order the immediate return to their country of Italian reservists absent without leave. Maritime agents here state that the steamer Atlantic plying between Italy and South America has been requisitioned by the Italian government.

The foregoing dispatch indicates that Italy's war preparations are proceeding. Most of the reservists in South America are men who have not seen military service for several years.

BROWN APPOINTED RAILWAY COUNCIL

Montgomery, Ala., April 28.—Judge Armand Brown, for six years Associate Judge of the City Court of Montgomery, has been appointed General Solicitor of the Florida East Coast Railway one of the most lucrative railway positions in Florida. He will go into office May 1, after which time he will make his home at Jacksonville, Fla., with offices in the headquarters of the law department of the road.

Judge Brown received the offer several days ago and it came as complete surprise to the Montgomery attorney. He will be associated with Hon. W. A. Blount, General Counsel for the Flagler railway system, which founded and owns the East Coast Railway.

Mr. Blount was recently elected master of the Flagler estate which also operates several branch lines. The East Coast runs from Jacksonville to Key West, part of which operates over the Florida Keys and although comparatively short in mileage, the system is one of the finest in the United States.

Judge Brown resigned February 12 of this year, when the legislature abolished his office, to be come effective at the expiration of his term. In resigning he said he did not care to hold an office which the lawmakers had declared useless.

Judge Brown was engaged in the general practice of law here several years before being elected to the bench. Since his resignation from the City Court he has been in the practice of law with T. J. Dowdell, with whom he will still be connected until the business of the present term is completed in the fall. He will move his family to Jacksonville at a later date.

Make Alabama Tickless

TICK FREE CATTLE MOST PROFITABLE

COW FAITHFUL SERVANT OF FAMILY—PRODUCE BEST KNOWN FOOD.

MAKE ALABAMA TICKLESS

Ticky Cattle Cheaper Than Tick Free Cattle—Live Stock Basis of Permanent Farming.

By JUDGE A. E. CHAMBERLAIN, Of the International Harvester Co.

Cattle have always played a leading part in successful farming. In the days when the immigrant and his family went into the forest, or on the unbroken plains, by wagon, to make for themselves a home, the best cow in their little herd was led behind the wagon. Night and morning she furnished for the family a large part of their sustenance in the best food known—good, sweet, fresh milk. Arriving at their destination she browsed in the wood or grazed on the prairie before any cultivated crops had been grown.
The cow is the only animal that has the power of converting rough feeds on the farm that would otherwise be wasted into a daily supply of food. A good dairy cow will pay a farmer more for the feed she consumes than any other farm animal, except a brood sow, when the sow and her litter are furnished good legume pasture, with a little grain.

Cows Consume Waste.

Cattle will consume large quantities of corn stalks, straw and other cattle fodder that would otherwise be wasted on the farm. And they convert them into fertilizer of the very best kind, and in the best form. The fattest and healthiest cattle the writer has seen in Alabama is a small herd belonging to E. J. How & Son in Escambe county. They have been wintered entirely on velvet beans and corn stalks. The corn was picked and then the cattle turned in the field. They have cared for themselves during the winter, grown rapidly and increased in value, and at the same time the soil has been immensely fertilized.

Subject to Few Diseases.

Cattle are subject to less epidemics of disease than most domestic animals.
It is very seldom that we hear of an epidemic killing many cattle in a community.

Texas fever is the one and only disease that is continually cutting down

THE DIPPING VAT WILL DO IT the profits of the cattle business in Alabama. But that one disease costs the people of Alabama several million dollars annually. The average value of cattle in the tick infested area of Alabama is about $15.00 to $18.00 per head. And that average value cannot be increased so long as we have ticks, for two reasons. First, just as long as we have ticks in the herd, every calf will have Texas fever, and we all know that stunts for life every one that does not die of the disease. Second, we cannot bring in new stock, because if we do, the first tick that bites them will give them Texas fever, and seven out of every ten of them will die.

On the other hand, wherever we find tick free area in the South, where good stock have been used even for one cross, the two-year-old cattle will sell for an average of $30.00 to $35.00 per head.

No Animal Has Texas Fever Except From the Bite of the Fever Tick.

No way is known to give cattle the Texas fever except by the bite of the fever tick, or deliberately drawing some blood from an animal that has it and injecting it into another animal, which, of course is never done, except by men experimenting.

Only One Fever Tick.

There are several varieties of ticks, but only one fever tick. And the tick that causes the trouble does not live on dogs, squirrels, rabbits, etc. It only lives on cattle, and occasionally one is found on a mule or a horse.

Cure for Hollow Horn and Hollow Tail There are two and only two causes of what so many in the South call hollow horn or hollow tail. These causes are either Texas fever, caused by the ticks, or hunger. There are

And one other treatment will prevent every one of these. The one preventive is to kill the ticks by dipping the cattle before they get sick, and the other is more good, nourishing feed. For, honestly, there is no such disease as either hollow horn or hollow tail. It is ticks —Texas fever—or hunger

BOLL WEEVIL AND LATE PLANTING

DREADED INSECT NOT CONTROLL-ABLE BY LATE PLANTING AS MANY THINK.

ADVISABLE TO PLANT EARLY

As Soon as Soil and Air Conditions Promise Rapid and Continuous Growth.

By W. E. Hinde, Entomologist, Alabama Experiment Station, Auburn.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.
Each year we hear some persons living within the weevil infested area, advising the delaying of cotton planting until unusually late in order to starve out the boll weevils that have lived through the winter. For some reason, this idea seems to have a peculiar attractiveness for cotton planters. Unfortunately, however, the boll weevil cannot be starved out so easily and there is really only about one chance in many hundreds for cotton planted after the first of June in the weevil area to outyield that planted moderately early. The reason for this is that weevils come from winter quarters during a very long period of time. Some are out and look for cotton even before the earliest planted is out of the ground; but even in the latitude of Southern Texas, not all weevils had left their winter quarters before the last week of June or the first week of July.

Under our Alabama conditions, we can never advise unusually late planting of the cotton; neither do we advise extremely early planting because of the danger to the young plants by frosts, and also on account of the danger of plants being stunted by cold. It is advisable to plant as soon as the soil and air conditions promise a rapid and continuous growth of the young plants. Have the ground thoroughly prepared for the seed, properly fertilized and then cultivate shallow and frequently during the season. Get Alabama press bulletin 64 on "Boll Weevil Control in Early Summer."

In the early spring, several species of insects are commonly mistaken for the boll weevil. Among these, the two most common occurrences are the so-called bloodweed weevil which occurs in the stems of some species of rag weed or blood weed, and the transverse bark which is found abundantly in the roots and stems of cockleburs. Neither of these weevils bears any close resemblance to the real boll weevil. Compare especially the general shape of the body the length of the snout as compared with the length of the rest of the body, the curvature of the snout, the teeth on the inner side of the thick part of the front legs, etc. Get Alabama Bulletin 146 for illustrations of various insects mistaken for the boll weevil. These weevils do not attack cotton and the boll weevil attacks nothing else besides cotton.

TICKS WILL NOT COME BACK

By DR. B. O. MINGE, Veterinary Inspector U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry.

That there are many people in Alabama who do not realize just what innuent by tick eradication may seem strange to some, but such in none the less a fact. There are those who do not appreciate the fact that tick eradication means the utter elimination of a monstrous pest for all time to come and that it will not again return unless by being again introduced on cattle and horses from areas outside that which has been freed. This fact was fully demonstrated by experiment previously to 1906, when the systematic tick eradication movement was launched and has since that time been doubly proven in an area of over 240,000 square miles from which it has been eradicated and the area released from quarantine. From the 190 counties that go to comprise this area ticks have not reappeared, though in much of it years have since elapsed.

To accomplish this result it is only necessary to observe proper system and method in the disinfection of the cattle and tick infested mules and horses. The cattle tick infests these animals, but does not infest dogs, cats, rabbits, foxes, etc. It propagates its species by laying eggs from which they need ticks hatch. It cannot lay eggs until mature and does not mature until from 16 to 21 days after attaching itself to the animals mentioned.
They can exist for only six months in the summer season without substance.
Therefore, it is plain that if no ticks are allowed to mature on the animals thus infected, namely, cattle, horses or mules in a given area during this period no eggs can be laid and the cattle tick will be completely eradicated in that area during that period.
No, the cattle tick does not reappear in any area when it has been eradicated, unless reintroduced through the carelessness of man.

LIME REQUIREMENTS OF CROPS

Lime Loving. Those That Are Indiferent to Lime and Those That Are Injured by Lime.

By M. J. Funchess, Associate Agriculturist, Auburn, Ala.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

Field crop plants and garden or truck crops may be grouped into three classes, namely, (1) those that are lime loving, (2) those that are indifferent to lime, and (3) those that are frequently injured by lime. Among the field crops that are distinctly responsive to lime are alfalfa, red clover, crimson clover, bur clover, sweet clover (melilotus), the vetches, peanuts, soy beans, velvet beans, wheat, barley, oats, sorghum and tobacco. Some of the garden or truck crops in this group are lettuce, beet, okra, onion, cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, rutabaga and garden pea. On very sour lands in middle and south Alabama both cotton and corn have responded profitably to lime, though these two crops are usually not classed as lime-loving plants.

Among the field crops that may be placed in the group indifferent to lime are cowpeas, lespedeza or Japan clover, rye and red top. Cotton and corn may also be placed in this group, especially where nitrate of soda is used as the source of nitrogen in the fertilizer. On land that is only slightly sour, lime will seldom pay profits when used for these last named crops.

Among the few important crops injured by lime the watermelon is a good example, consistently injured by the use of lime. This crop almost invariably is more thrifty on sour land than on land that has been limed.

As a general rule, it is more profitable to use lime for the legumes, such as alfalfa, the clovers and vetches, etc., than it is to use it for the non-leguminous crops like corn, cotton, oats or wheat.

The early bird shouldn't have all the credit; the worm may just have staid out late.

The pink boll weevil may just be the other kind blushing from excitement over the diversification movement.

John Bunny was known by more men, women and children, than any other character in the world. He could walk down the streets without attracting attention, and the fact that he earned smiles instead of tears should make the public cherish his memory.

Sombody has suggested that children be not named until they grow up. Good idea. We've seen many an Elizabeth (and nearly all the girl children born are given that name) whose name would have suited her better had it been Sally, or Tabby, or Sook, or just plain Liz.

Every lawyer in Alabama feels that the court system are wrong somewhere, and doubtless most of them have a remedy. That's why the ordinary member of the legislature knows it's going to be mighty hot in Montgomery the middle of July. It will be hot, and then when all the lawyers from all parts of the state get there lobbying for their particular pet bills, things will begin to get much warmer. And when the legislature adjourns the lawyers will not be any better pleased with what they have than they now are, too many fingers in the pie; too many people want special schemes to become laws.

Needs a Tonic.

Will Sheehan and Editor Glass need a spring tonic. They are not putting enough vim into their campaign of arousing the people. They have attempted to do some eye-opening stunts that didn't have plans and blueprints attached, and the people didn't know what was wanted of them.

We suggest ananas tea, or iron tonic, since Peruna has been diluted with too much river water. They ought to take not only a tonic, but we would suggest setting-up-exercises every morning followed by a cold bath and a rub down. That has been known to work wonders in cases of anemia, similar to that manifested in the movement of Protest to make legislature.

If they attempt it again, we suggest they hire a band and serve free drinks—soft drinks, of course—and give it a thorough try-out before July 13th.

Should Not the Governor Speak?

Inasmuch as certain daily papers are industriously and persistently advertising that there is grave disagreements between the governor and the legislature, and that the state is in danger of serious financial trouble and that serious financial trouble and the possible impairment of its credit on account of this quarrel; and inasmuch as the governor's silence is calculated to give credence to the report so vigorously circulated by the aforesaid schismatics, is not the duty of the governor to speak out and correct these false reports. As a matter of fact there is no quarrel between the legislature and the governor. They are both seeking the solution of the financial problem laid to them by the former "business" governor who was the liquor hero of the aforesaid knocked-out journals.

The governor and the legislature do not agree as to methods, but they are in perfect agreement as to results. The governor advises that bonds be immediately voted on. The legislature, pursuing business methods if first endeavoring to find the waste that brought on this deficit and, finding the waste, meet all the state's obligations without bonds. The governor feels sure, and the people know, that when the legislature meets next July they will promptly issue bonds if they have found no other way to meet these obligations.

Now the governor is too sensible a man, and too good a Democrat (democrat) to assume the prerogative of a dictator and quarrel with a co-ordinate branch of the government because it is not altogether plastic in his hands—especially when they differ only in methods.

If, following the business methods of the legislature, the people see that there is no other way to meet the demands made upon the state than the issuance of bonds they will vote to issue them—they should not vote for bonds till such investigation be had. Large corporations do not issue bonds to meet expenses till they have sought for and exhausted all other means. The state is a great corporation and should adopt similar methods. The governor should not permit it to go abroad into other states that he has broken with the legislature because it is not subservient to his will. The honor and glory of the administration would be very much diminished were the co-ordinate branch of the government made up of servile sycophants rather than patriotic statesmen—and we opine that the governor knows it.

But the choleric Advisor and its Me-Too have become irate because they have lost out. It is apparent to them, and to all others, that the Glassco-Lewy Dynasty has toppled and now lies in ruins with the last vestige of its power vanishing into dark history. Their only hope is to hike away to the cave of Adulm and gather about them all the disaffected to lead a revolt.

And it shall come to pass that when they have made their bid into inglorious lonesomeness, they and all their followers will come on suppliant knee knocking at the door of a regenerate and upward-marching Democratic party for readmission. They will repeat some history not so very ancient. Beware of the second offense!

A Critical Period.

Memphis Commercial Appeal. The people of the cotton belt will be very lucky if it bring 10 within the next 15 days. They are now being sorely tempted. Cotton has bounded forward from the lowest level at an exceedingly rapid pace. Cotton now is fetching more than at any period since the war began.

If there had been no war the continuous crop would during the months of October and November have forced cotton to a level below the present price.

Encouragement by a hint of peace this summer which is based upon no fact or condition, but upon merely a hope, we are being told that there is to be an enormous wave of prosperity, and that during this flood everything that men have to sell will be high. Let our people this year make no mistake in holding one crop in the belief that it will fetch a big price this fall. If cotton this fall should bring 15 cents (and we will be very lucky if it brings 10 cents—very lucky indeed) wheat will continue to be around $1.50 a bushel and corn will also strike a high figure on the price boards. Unless we grow some of the things we ordinarily buy we may again have to pay enormous prices for them, and sell the things we have at a low price.

We can begin this year to make cotton profitable even if it brings no more than 8 cents a pound.

We can do this ourselves by growing part or all of the things that are used up while a cotton crop is being made.

Suppose last year while we were passing the hat under the spell of the buy-a-bale frenzy that we had growing in the fields, cowpeas, some corn and running in the pastures hogs and cattle. We then would have been panic proof.

One may answer that all crops failed last year.

The best farmers last year made some cash in spite of the dry weather. They made lots of hay.

Now if we so arrange that we can live for a few months from the products of our own lands, then indeed can we be reasonably out of debt when the cotton is picked, and the money we get will carry us through the next year.

It is amazing how long a family can live from a good garden. A family in the South ought to have a garden nine months in the year.

A cow giving milk every day in the year can contribute one-half of the food supply to a small family.

The problem is so simple that it is amazing that it has not been solved long ago.

Mass Meetings and Their Real Meanings.

Birmingham Ledger.

A cute political scheme is being worked over the state. Meetings are being held, worked up by politicians, "to bring public opinion to bear on the legislature," etc. It is real cute and it does influence some unthinking people that they are coercing the legislature to "support the governor" in his effort to have a bond issue. Many really good people are induced to go into these meetings on the theory that the legislature is not supporting the governor.

Of course thinking people know that the legislature and not the governor, is the law making power in Alabama. The governor has no authority to submit any measure to the people. Thinking people know that the legislature is not in session and will not be

It permeates and dissolves dirt, grease and grime everywhere and it cleans and brightens everything.

Use Gold Dust not only for washing dishes, but for washing bottles and bathroom fixtures, scrubbing floors, washing woodwork, cleaning and freshening linoleum and oilcloth, cleaning and brightening pots, pans and cooking utensils, giving luster to glassware—in short, for any and every cleaning and brightening purpose.

for weeks. Thinking people know that these meetings are usually worked up by men who expect to ask the governor for something when he gets ready to give out the officers.

There is not a particle of need to urge the legislature on the matter of a bond issue. The lower house passed a bill to submit one and the senate has it ready for consideration. That is the plain truth about the bond issue. There is no mystery, little discord and no war with the governor. A bond issue bill is before the senate after having passed the house. The senate is not in session, but will meet in July, when this matter and others will be passed on.

These worked up meetings will have nothing to do with the bond issue, but may have a great deal to do with certain appointments. This accounts for the activities of certain politicians and their desire to force the senate to do something while it is not even in session.

Certain papers and certain politicians are busy creating a public sentiment to urge the senate. It is politics, and is not likely to do harm. The senators are citizens, as we are, have the same interests that we have, and in addition have the duty of deciding whether the state needs a bond issue, or a rigid economy. They will determine that in July. In the meantime the candidates for appointments can have as many meetings as they can promote, without doing any serious harm.

The state is in no danger. It is in no serious difficulties, and the legislature in July will pass all the relief measures that may be needed.

EAT LIKE BEAST

Take a Glass of Soda to Your Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Do You Know How Your Checks Can Be "Raised"?

Any unprotected check ever written could be raised from ten to a hundred times its original amount—using a man's genuine signature as a tool to steal his money out of his bank account.

Do you realize what this means? Look over the next lot of your cancelled checks that come back from the bank. See how many people have handled them. Are all of these people honest?

A few pen strokes, or a drop of acid, will change the amount on your check so you wouldn't recognize it. And yet—your signature remains to show that you are responsible.

There is but one form of check protection that has stood the test of fifteen years. The Todd "shredding" patent as embodied in

The Protectograph Check Writer

 THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS SIX CENTS

has repeatedly defied amateur and professional check-raisers. It stands guard over the world's biggest bank accounts.

This beautiful instrument prints a whole word at each stroke of the handle—fast as the hands can move. Writes checks 25 to 50 per cent. faster than the old way—and absolutely protects the amount at the same time. It "shreds" clear through the paper, filling the shredded fibres with two colors of heavy, insoluble ink—denominations in black, amounts in red. This insures beautiful writing, positive legibility, uniformly neat checks, enforces system in writing checks and—your checks are protected before they are signed.

Anyone can operate it.

The Protectograph Model K

You ought to see this beautiful Check Writing instrument, and try it on your own checks. With the new improvements recently added it is certainly the finest office appliance on the market—and the price is so low you'll wonder how it can be done.

Here's another Protectograph—the famous "NOT OVER" model—known the world over for simplicity, durability, reliability. (Over 500,000 of this model in daily use.) It gives perfect protection when high speed in check writing is not of first importance. Here is the familiar "shredded" line—

Tick eradication is a long step in the direction of "Alabama must feed

STRENGTHEN TICK ERADICATION

New Year County Can Get Tick Eradication.

BY DR. E. H. BRUNS, Veterinary Inspector, Bureau of Animal Industry.

In regard to the eradication of the Texas fever tick in a county it is one of the most progressive movements that can be made. Before the tick can be satisfactorily eradicated from a county it is necessary to have a full system of public dipping vats for use in the regular dipping of cattle in the county; therefore, a vat dipping campaign must precede the actual tick work. This campaign will have much educational value.

In order that the vats are economically, durably and systematically constructed it is necessary to have experienced vat builders employed by the county to assist the various farm communities. The U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry at Birmingham will detail a vat inspector to counties that are earnestly interested in a vat building campaign. To obtain assistance it is necessary that such counties have through their Commissioners or Court provided the cement and medicine to build and fill the public dipping vats.

After the vat building campaign is nearly completed a tick eradication election must be held—a petition signed by twenty-five per cent. of the voters of the county is necessary to call an election. A majority of the voters cast at the election are necessary to vote eradication.

The Commissioners' Court must next adopt the rules and regulations of the Livestock Sanitary Board of Alabama relative to tick eradication.
If these requirements are complied with the state generally assigns inspectors to assist such counties in the work. The state appropriation of $25,000 is to be used in providing these inspectors. The U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry will also detail an experienced inspector to supervise and superintend the work in the county.

PUBLIC DIPPING VAT MEANS OF ERADICATING THE TICK

BY DR. R. E. JACKSON, Veterinary Inspector in Charge of Tick Eradication, Birmingham, Alabama.

In viewing the livestock situation in Alabama, there is nothing that is holding the state back as much as the presence of the cattle tick. We can raise the feed for more livestock, our climate is favorable, but very little progress can be made as long as we have the cattle tick.

To all who view the illustration and carefully reflect it will be apparent why Alabama is so woefully deficient who come to use them as well as those who may witness their use.

Public dipping vats are usually constructed in a county by the county authorities providing the cement and medicine to build and fill the vat, the community providing the sand, gravel, lumber and labor necessary. In counties where such arrangements are made to construct public dipping vats, the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture usually details an inspector to supervise the work in the interest of the proper construction of the vats and to further

Cannot Raise Ticks and Cattle Together. This Steer Weighed 730 Pounds Before Dipping. Two Months Later He Weighed 1,015 Pounds.

In the number and quality of cattle, that Alabama had at the last census only 12 cattle to the square mile, instead of having, as Iowa had at the time, 81 to the square mile, is to be attributed largely to the presence of the cattle tick. In Iowa the cattle are not burdened with this pest and the industry is a thriving one. Here as the above picture mutely and dejectedly affords evidence the cattle tick is a menace to the industry overshadowing the fact that cattle can under like conditions be grown $2.00 per hundred cheaper in Alabama than in Iowa. This blood-sucking parasite produces disease in cattle that has cost Alabama millions of dollars annually for many years, and prohibits help the people in the eradication of the cattle tick.

The necessary dipping vats having been provided, it is only necessary in order to eradicate cattle ticks from any area in one year, that all cattle in that area be dipped once every two weeks in standard strength arsenical solution. Dipping cattle in this solution kills all the ticks on the cattle and does not hurt the cattle, but improves their appearance. As cattle ticks do not mature under 16 days after attaching themselves to cattle and as they cannot lay eggs until mature, and as the dipping occurs every 14 days no eggs are laid and propagation of the species ceases. The young

the introduction of breeding animals to improve the grade of our cattle. Animals brought in having no degree of immunity are usually fatally affected with the Texas fever even if they get but a very few ticks on them. The tick produces the disease commonly known as bloody murrain by imparting into the blood of cattle a minute micro-organism through its bite. The cattle tick is easily eradicated by dipping the cattle in arsenical solution.
Dipping vats are usually constructed of concrete. In counties preparing to eradicate cattle ticks, a sufficient sum-ber of public vats are constructed in different portions of the county to demonstrate their usefulness to all ty supplied with tick eradication lit-with Northern Meat.

By MRS. G. H. MATHIS, Alabama Diversified Farming Association.

The cattle tick is a poisonous insect, and should be put out of Alabama. We cannot begin to estimate the number of children who have died from the effect of milk from ticky cows. The milk produces dysentery and summer complaint among small children and thousands of babies die every year in Alabama from these diseases.

The renter loses his share of those cattle, and he is less able to stand the loss than many others.

The doctor bills fall heavy on him, and the interference that a sick child causes in the home may cause him to lose his crop.

The renter is often very dependent upon his cow for food. The ticks will cause the cow to fall off in milk flow a quart a day, and go dry long before the natural time. All this is a loss the renter cannot afford. Then he has the further loss of having the cows thin and weak when they could be fat and strong.

Cattle Ticks Cause Money Loss.

If he has yearlings to sell for beef, they will bring several dollars less per head if they come from ticky counties, so the renter loses on the beef and the hides that he has put on the market. The tick makes the beef tough and it can never be made tender. Ticks makes the yearling slow to fatten.

The fact that home-grown beef is nearly always tough and unpalatable, has put a low price on Alabama beef, and we cannot compete with Kansas City meat, even in our home markets.
As soon as we can get rid of cattle ticks we can claim the home markets, but we can never claim them until we dip our cattle and kill the ticks. It is an easy matter to eradicate the tick if you are willing to cooperate and dip your cattle.

The renter, with one cow needs all the milk the cow can give, and he needs good milk for his family the same as the man with many cows.
Therefore, he must be willing to do his part in building vats and helping along that line as any other man.

Now that we really know the danger of the cattle tick, it seems that every man who loves his family and his home will be glad to help in the good work and get rid of the ticks this year.

HOME MIXING OF FERTILIZERS

Advantages Obtained By This Method Becoming More Popular—Can Be Made Cheaper.

By D. J. Burleson, Assistant Agriculturist, Alabama Experiment Station.
Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

By home mixing we mean that fertilizer materials, such as dried blood, sulphate of ammonia, acid phosphate, kainit, etc., are bought by the farmer and mixed at home in whatever proportion he desires. Most farmers buy factory mixed fertilizers, but the mixing of the fertilizer materials at home is becoming more popular. Some advantages of home mixing follow.

First—Usually the amount of plant food contained in a ton of the average mixed fertilizer may be obtained at from two to five dollars cheaper when the fertilizer materials are bought and mixed at home.

Second—By home mixing the farmer may avoid the buying of unnecessary constituents. Different proportions of the food elements may be made for different crops, or for the same crop on different soil types. A factory mixed fertilizer is made for average conditions and, therefore cannot suit every condition.

Third—Since the farmer knows the source of the food elements in a home mixture, he knows how rapidly they become available. Often the farmer does not know the source of the nitrogen in the mixed fertilizer.

Fourth—By comparing the effect of various fertilizer material, when used alone, or when mixed in different proportions, the farmer may learn the needs of his soil. This he cannot do so long as he uses mixed fertilizers.

CONFESSES GUILT IN OPEN COURT

New York, April 28.—Philip T. White, the $6,000 a year manager of the Mawry Paint Company in Brooklyn on trial as the leader of a band of highwaymen, who robbed his employers' bank messengers of $3,000 nearly a year ago, rose from his chair in the court room today, stretched both arms toward the presiding judge, and exclaimed:

"Stop! I am guilty. I want to confess before God and the world."

White, trembling with emotion then faced the jury.

"I am guilty," he repeated. "It is a bitter cup that is forced to my lips, but it is the Lord's will. I have lived two lives—a decent one and that of a highwayman. I hope God will forgive me, and that I may live long enough to make restitution."

He reached to his coat lapel and fumbled with a gold fraternity pin.

"And I surrender my membership in the Mystic Shrine," he continued, tearing the button loose. "I am no longer worthy."

Continuing his impassioned avowal, he freely told the details of the crime, but asked no clemency and made no statement as to his motive. When he sat down beside his long time friend, James F. Clinnen, auditor for the Hackett & Wilhelm Company in Brooklyn, on trial on the same charge, arose.

"I wish to plead guilty, too," he said, and sat down.

The jury was dismissed. Sentence was postponed a week.

The actual robbery was committed by two highwaymen acting under White's orders. The four afterwards divided the money, White getting $900. This was testified to yesterday by one of the robbers.

White lived in a handsome home at Elizabeth, N. J. When he was arrested his employers were astounded and assisted him to obtain bail.

Atlanta, Ga., April 28.—More than fifteen thousand letters dealing with the L. M. Frank case have been received by Governor Slaton within the last few weeks, according to information given out here today by attaches of the Governor's office. With very few exceptions the writers urged the Governor to commute Leo M. Frank's sentence on the charge of having murdered Mary Phagan, from death to five imprisonment.

Letters Stacked Away.

The letters are being tied in bundles and stacked away pending consideration by the state prison commission and the governor of Frank's application for commutation of sentence. Members of the prison commission stated that they have received about 100 letters urging clemency for Frank and that several hundred other writers have addressed pleas to Governor-elect N. E. Harris, at Macon, in view of the probability that Governor Slaton may not be able to act upon Frank's appeal before his term expires July 1 next.

Members of the prison commission said today that no date has been set for the hearing on Frank's application for commutation of sentence, and that none will be set until after the mandate of the United States Supreme Court denying Frank's appeal in habeas corpus proceedings has been filed in the federal district court here. According to the commission it will not be possible to give a hearing on Frank's plea before the first Monday in June. It is expected the Supreme Court's mandate will be issued May 19.

Harris Getting Many Letters.

Macon, Ga., April 28.—Governor-elect Nat. E. Harris frankly admits that he wishes his correspondents would let up on him relative to the Frank case. Today a reporter called on him in his office and found him buried in a mass of letters nearly chin high some calling on him to pardon Frank, if the case comes before him after he assumes the governorship, and others just as insistent that he let the law take its course.

Among the letters which came in today was one from Margie Fubier, an 11-year-old girl of Norway, S. C. She made an earnest appeal for the condemned man.

Another letter, from a Texan, said, "Take all that rot for a pardon for Frank and burn it. You know in your heart he is guilty and all the people of Georgia know it."

Many of the letters being received are bitter in their denunciation of Frank. Some of them asking for clemency come from people in high walks of life.

Judge Harris Stays Position.

Judge Harris says he doesn't know that the question of pardoning Frank will come before him and this afternoon said: "While in Atlanta a day or two ago I saw E. L. Rainey, a member of the Prison Commission and requested him to ask the commission in my name to allow the Frank case to take the

STARTING TICK ERADICATION

How Your County Can Get Tick Eradication.

BY DR. R. M. BRUNS,
Veterinary Inspector, Bureau of Animal Industry.

Texas fever tick in a county it is one
of the most progressive movements
that can be made. Before the tick
can be satisfactorily eradicated from
a county it is necessary to have a full
in the regular dipping of cattle in the
county; therefore, a vat dipping campaign must precede the actual tick
work. This campaign will have much
educational value.

In order that the vats are economically, durably and systematically constructed it is necessary to have experienced vat builders employed by
communities. The U. S. Bureau of
building campaign. To obtain assistance it is necessary that such counties have through their Commissioners' Court provided the cement and
dipping vats.

After the vat building campaign is
nearly completed a tick eradication
election must be held—a petition signed by twenty-five per cent. of the voters of the county is necessary to call an election. A majority of the votes cast at the election are necessary to
vote eradication.

The Commissioners' Court must next adopt the rules and regulations of the Livestock Sanitary Board of Alabama relative to tick eradication.

with the state generally assigns in-
spectors to assist such counties in the work. The state appropriation of $25,000 is to be used in providing
these inspectors. The U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry will also detail an ex-
superintend the work in the county.

BY DR. R. E. JACKSON,
Veterinary Inspector in Charge of Tick Eradication, Birmingham, Alabama.

In viewing the livestock situation
can raise the feed for more livestock,
our climate is favorable, but very little progress can be made as long as we have the cattle tick.

To all who view the illustration and
carefully reflect it will be apparent
why Alabama is so woefully deficient who come to use ticks as well as those who may witness their use.

Public dipping vats are usually
community providing the sand, gravel,
ties where such arrangements are
made to construct public dipping vats,
the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture usually details an inspector to supervise

stead of having, as Iowa had at the time, 81 to the square mile. In order attributed largely to the presence of
industry is a thriving one. Here exactly the opposite is the case. Dipping cattle in this vat kills all the ticks and does not hurt the cattle, but improves their appearance. As cattle ticks do not mature under 16 days after attaching themselves to cattle and
as they cannot lay eggs until mature,

days no eggs are laid and propaga-

improve the grade of our cattle. Ani-
immunity are usually fatally affected
with the Texas fever even if they get
tick produces the disease commonly
known as bloody murrain by impart-
ing into the blood of cattle a minute
cattle tick is easily eradicated by dip-
ping the cattle in arsenical solution.

of concrete. In counties preparing to eradicate cattle ticks, a sufficient number of public vats are constructed in
different portions of the county to
